What's a time-old secret with ancient aromatherapy recipes the natural way? Indian Head Massage will enhance your beauty, give you strong, healthy hair and stop hair loss. These massage techniques can be easily learnt. Perform them on yourself or a friend. I'm an Indian born teacher of Holistic and Spiritual therapies and an Internationally qualified Beauty Therapy Teacher (ITEC, London) for over 30 years. I have run two successful International Colleges in Sydney and Canberra, Australia - Stephanie Roberts' International Beauty Training College and Stephanie Roberts' Art of Beauty Training College. Being of Indian heritage, I was the recipient of many Indian Head Massages as a child from my "Dadi" (paternal grandmother). I have her to thank for my luxurious long raven-black hair today! Indian head massage has both physical and psychological benefits. It is very effective as it helps soothe and relax the nervous system while relieving joint and muscle stiffness. And of course it is a very beneficial treatment for tension head-aches and eyestrain. Also different strokes and pressure are used to stimulate the lymphatic and circulatory system, which assist in removal of waste and toxins. These are just a few of the therapeutic and health benefits of this technique. It's a deep relaxing therapy that re-balances the body's energy to produce a sense of peace, calm and well-being. It is believed that three of the main energy centers of the human body are found in the head: brow crown and throat. Indian head massage stimulates these important energy centers, (chakras)

which help to maintain the body's balance of energy and a feeling of peace and tranquility. Follow through the instructions and repeat at least 3-5 times, till you become adept at the skill. It is a wonderful treatment for balancing mind and body the natural way. Your life will flow and bring you great peace and contentment if you practice this skill, using my essential oil recipes ... as well as BEAUTIFUL LUXURIOUS HEALTHY HAIR! Deborah Jay Kelly is the founder and CEO of The Angel Academy which was established in 2003. Deborah had previously taught for many years in a prestigious school in Harley Street, before being trained up as a professional Tutor and Assessor in order to continue teaching across many Colleges for a total of 8 years. This is where she met many Students who still do courses with her today. In 2003, due to increasing demand, Deborah founded the Angel Academy of Teaching and Training, which is accredited by the FHT, VTCT, NVQ and BABTAC and able to give CPD points for courses. Today, Deborah lives out her daily passion by working as a Beauty Trainer seven days a week, appearing in many television shows and promotions often discussing her work and running the Angel Academy weekend courses. More recently, Deborah was called to put together a team of her Students in order to work with a group of Celebrity Dancers called 'Diversity' for a show called 'Ashley's Secret Street Crew'. The decision was tough but she settled on a group of her favourite students and therapists. Little did she know that this would lead to 'The Angel Academy of Teaching and Training' becoming one of the most televised beauty schools of all time! Drawing on Foucault and poststructural feminist theory, this question is answered in four papers, in which the material consists of beauty-school recruitment and marketing material, interviews with skin and spa therapy students and observations of practical skin and spa therapy training. These are educational arrangements that are closely bound to the economic sector of the beauty industry, and they have remained remarkably unexplored. Various aspects of subjectivity production are explored throughout these papers: Paper I shows how the potential beauty student is shaped through processes of responsabilising and individualising in recruitment; Paper II shows how a scientific and caring professional emerges; Paper III shows how students learn to adopt a critical gaze towards bodies; and Paper IV shows how students are produced as emotional workers and learners, taking Hochschild's term "emotional labour" as a point of departure. The results show how (medical) scientific knowledge becomes a resource in the production of the skin and spa therapy professional, mobilising gender relations of power, and neglecting other types of skills and knowledge. However, relational and caring aspects of work and learning emerge in the study through the way in which wider discourses of femininity inform the ways in which students are produced as professionals. Syftet med avhandlingen var att svara på frågan: Hur produceras yrkesmässiga och könade subjekt i skönhetsbranschens yrkesutbildningar? Foucault och poststrukturalistisk feministisk teori användes för att svara på denna fråga i fyra artiklar där materialet bestod av rekryterings- och marknadsföringsmaterial gällande skönhetsutbildningar, intervjuer med hud- och spaterapeutstudenter samt observationer av praktiska lektioner i hud- och spaterapeututbildning. Dessa utbildningsarrangemang är nära sammanbundna med branschens ekonomiska sektor, men är utforskade till hög grad. Olika aspekter av subjektivitetsskapande undersöks i artiklarna: Den första artikeln visar hur den potentiella skönhetsstudenten skapas genom ansvariggörande och individualiserande processer i rekrytering; Den andra artikeln visar hur en vetenskaplig och omvårdnande professionell framträder; Den tredje artikeln visar hur hud- och spaterapeutstudenter lär sig lägga an en kritisk blick på kroppar; Den fjärde artikeln visar hur hud- och spaterapeutstudenter produceras som emotionella arbetare och lärande med utgångspunkt i Hochschilds begrepp "emotional labour". Resultaten i artiklarna visar hur (medicinsk) vetenskaplig kunskap blir en resurs när den professionella hud- och spaterapeuten produceras, vilket mobiliserar makt- och genusrelationer och osynliggör samtidigt andra typer av kunskaper. Relationella och omvårdnande aspekter av detta arbete och lärande framträder emellertid genom de sätt som bredare femininitetsdiskurser tas upp och mobiliseras när studenterna produceras som professionella.
